

..... My Trip

Write a story about a trip you went on when there was a storm.
You can follow this plan:

- where you went and who you were with
- the storm
- what happened in the end

A large, detailed illustration that frames a central writing area. The top portion depicts a storm with dark, heavy clouds, bright lightning bolts striking down, and rain falling. In the background, a city with a bridge is visible. In the foreground, a person in a raincoat and boots is walking with an umbrella, while another person is being carried away by a large, dark, shadowy figure. The bottom portion of the illustration is filled with various fantastical elements: on the left, a large parrot with its wings spread; in the center, a person's hands are shown playing a drum; on the right, a crocodile with its mouth open, a wolf-like creature with its mouth open, and a tree trunk with a large, staring eye. The central writing area consists of ten horizontal dotted lines.

..... My Problem

Write a letter about your problem to Problems-over, the problem-solving page of a magazine. You can follow this plan:

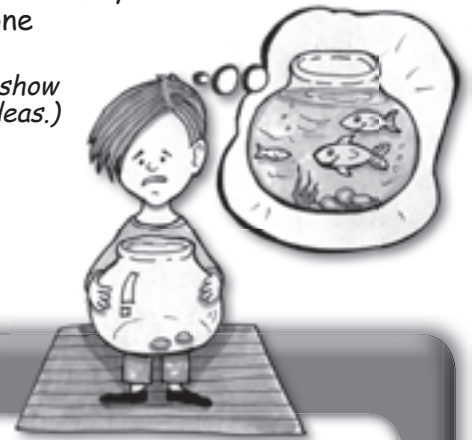

- say what your problem is
- say how you feel about it
- ask for help

First, think about your problem. What is it? Here are some ideas:

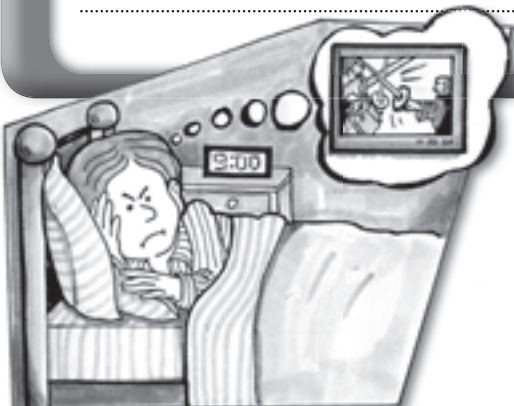

- you don't get any pocket money
- your parents won't let you go to parties
- you have to look after your younger brother or sister
- you think one of your classmates stole your phone

(The pictures show some other ideas.)

A large rectangular area with horizontal dotted lines for writing.

..... My New Friend

Write an email to your e-friend, Chris, describing your new friend. Say:

- who your new friend is
- where you met
- what you do together
- why you like him/her

..... My Favourite Animal

Write an article about your favourite animal. The animal can be a cat, a helper animal like a dog or a pony, or a wild animal. Say:

- what the animal is
- what it looks like
- what it can do
- why you like it

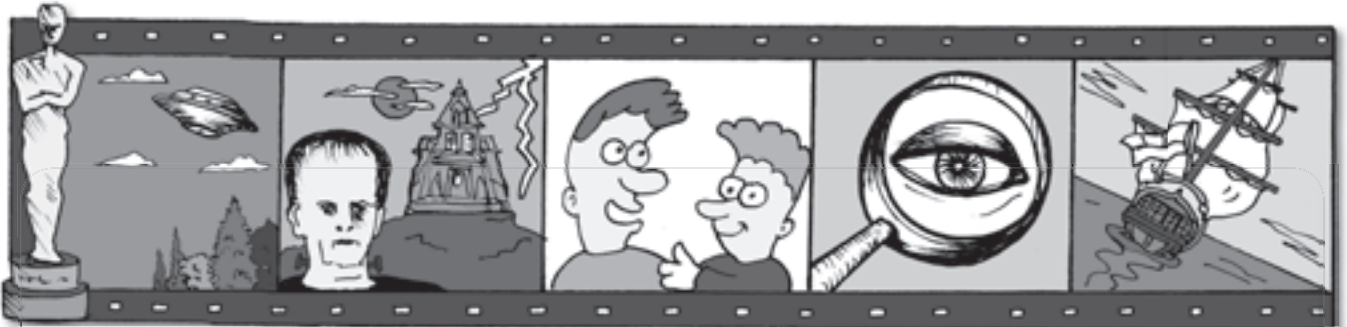

A large rectangular area containing horizontal dotted lines for writing. On the right side, there is a dashed rectangular box containing the text: "Put a picture of the animal here."

..... A Film Review

Write a review of a film that you really like. Follow this plan:

- the name of the film
- what type of film it is (adventure, sci-fi, etc)
- the main characters
- the plot (what happens)
- why you like the film

A large rectangular area containing horizontal dotted lines for writing a film review.
