

Mr and Mrs Brown live in a small house in the forest. They're very nice, but they're very poor. Their house is next to Mrs Black's big house. She's very rich, but she isn't nice at all.

Mrs Black's garden is full of tomatoes, potatoes, apple trees and pear trees. There's a big, high tower in her garden.

One day, Mr Brown hasn't got any food.

We're very hungry today! These tomatoes are lovely. These apples are great! I've got a lot of them in my sack!

But then...

Stop! Thief!
You are a bad man!
Don't steal from me.

In a few months...

... But Mrs Black can hear too!

Mmm!
A lullaby!
They've got a baby now!

Our new baby's very pretty. Let's sing a lullaby for her!
La, La, La, La...

Give me your baby!
You like stealing
from me, so I'm taking your baby girl! She can live in my tower! I can give her a name:
Rapunzel!

Rapunzel's in Mrs Black's tower now.
She isn't happy.

Rapunzel is now a young girl. She's still in the tower. Her hair is long. She's very pretty but she isn't happy and she isn't free.

Rapunzel is now a young woman. She's still in the tower.

Her hair is very, very long. She isn't happy and she isn't free.

One day, Greg, a handsome young man, is near the tower.

This young girl is very pretty. But she's very sad too. She's a prisoner! Can I save her?

Then ...

Rapunzel!
Rapunzel!
Is your hair down?
I'm coming up!

Ah! I CAN save her.
I can climb up!
Rapunzel! Rapunzel!
Is your hair down?
I'm climbing up!

He can save me.
He's nice!

You're safe now Rapunzel. You are free. You can see
your family again.
You can have
friends and you
can have fun!

Thank you, Greg!
I'm free now.
I can go home!
