

Hercules and the golden apples

Hercules is very big and strong. He's very clever too.

One day the king says to Hercules:

Hercules and the golden apples

Atlas, you're very tired. Give me the sky and you can get the apples for the king.

Yes, Hercules, you're right. I am very tired. Here's the sky. You can hold it for ever.

I've got the golden apples for the king now. I'm going to the king!

Hercules and the golden apples

And Atlas is still holding the sky!
