

This is Mr Kim. He lives in a small village. That is Mr Park. His house is next to Mr Kim's house. Mr Kim is very poor. He hasn't got any money. Mr Park is very rich. He's got lots and lots of money. But he wants more and more and more!

Mr Kim and Mr Park

In front of their houses there is an orange tree. It isn't a happy orange tree. It hasn't got any oranges. It wants water. Mr Kim gives it water every day. Now it's a happy orange tree. It's got big oranges. They're lovely. Mr Kim gives the oranges to all the people in the village.

Mr Kim and Mr Park

It's a great orange! Thank you, Mr Kim. Here's a present for you.

Oh! A big, big piece of gold!

I've got a present for you too. Here's a big, big cow from my farm?

Now, I can have some gold too!

He gives a big, big orange to the king. The King is very happy.

But now, Mr Park isn't happy. He wants some gold too! He goes to the king.

Mr Kim and Mr Park

Ah! Very nice!
What can I give this man?

The king likes the cow.

Mmm, I know!

But...

On, no! It's the orange from the orange tree!
Where's my gold?
